To Whom It May Concern:

This is a letter of recommendation for Zach Bartholomew and his trio.

We've had the pleasure of working with Zach for over 3 years.

Zach and his trio perform on the last Friday of every month for our club's Jazztini night. There have also been additional occasions in which Zach has performed as a solo artist for us such as Mother's Day brunch.

I can easily state that Zach provides an excellent experience for our members and guests each and every time. He consistently strives to exceed our expectations and respond with flexibility and optimism. There is always clear communication, which is supported by professional business ethics.

It is a pleasure to partner with Zach and I am delighted to recommend him for future events.

Sincerely,

Tracy A. Marple
